1956 State Legislature Passes Into History With Record Budget

Michigan's 1956 Legislature has passed into history and its members are preparing for roles in the fall campaigns of both parties. The session's adjournment scheduled was stretched an extra day when House-Senate deadlock over budget bills were unresolved after numerous conferences. When it was all over the state had a record $329,200,000 budget for 1956-57.

Two major budget bills were held back until the last hectic hours by a behind-the-scenes battle over a proposed pension for legislators. They would qualify after four years of service. Legislators already have the option of joining the state employees' retirement system and have voted themselves Social Security membership.

The House approved the pension bill, but it was stalled in the Senate Appropriations Committee until the end. When it became certain the proposal would die in the Senate, the deadlock ended and the budget was finally approved. Legislators, their work finished for another year, returned home and prepared for their re-election campaigns.

Radio Cars of the State Department of Conservation are now formally a part of the state's civil defense warning system against tornadoes. Gov. Williams made the suggestion when communications became a major factor in rescue and relief work in the Grand Rapids and Flint tornado disasters.

Without waiting for formal invitations, the department sent its radio cars into the field during the recent tornado alerts, relaying messages between other emergency equipment. The legislature also gave Gov. Williams the power to mobilize civil defense forces in the event of a natural disaster, such as a tornado. In other emergencies, civil defense workers worked side by side with police despite their lack of official status.

The State Supreme Court has formally ruled unconstitutional the Trucks Communist Control Act of 1952. The court took its precedent from a decision of the United States Supreme Court in a Pennsylvania case which said that only Congress can make laws controlling Communists. The Michigan law had never been enforced because it has been tied up in legal tests since it was enacted.

At one point Circuit Judge George B. Murphy, of Detroit, ruled it was unconstitutional. It was his opinion that was used by the Michigan Supreme Court decision. The court ruled that the unconstitutional parts of the law were those requiring registration of communists and front organizations with the State Police. Others were clauses defining a communist, the Communist Party, a front organization, and creating a list of "subversive organizations" to be drawn up by the state attorney general.

Powers for the State Conservation Commission to control the size of Michigan's deer herd have been restored by the legislature after two years of controversy. "We won't abuse the authority, and local sentiment will be our guide," said Conservation Director Gerald E. Eddy.

The commission had the powers for three years but controversy arose after it declared a one-day "any-deer" season to cut down the size of the deer herd.

Reasons for the special season, scientists said, was to prevent an over-population of deer from starving in woodlots where food was in short supply during the winter. Farmers complained that deer, starved for food, were raiding their crops. Sportsmen's groups reacted against the "any-deer" season and brought the issue to a head in the legislature. After two years, the legislature restored the powers on a qualified basis.

The commission will be empowered to control the deer herd, but its regulations will be subject to review by the legislative rules committee.

There is still a question about the committee's powers to throw out a regulation. A test two years ago brought a ruling that the committee could review and recommend but not veto a regulation. "We now have disciplinary powers for the conservation commission, that's all," said Senator Leo H. Roy (R-Hancock).

In the same battle, a plan to open the deer hunting season on the Saturday nearest Nov. 15 was beaten. The season will open on Nov. 15, on whichever day of the week it happens to fall.

St. Mary's, Mens' Club Hold Meeting

St. Mary's Hall was the scene Tuesday evening of a highly successful Mens' Club meeting, the last for the retiring officers. Lawrence Hunter, in a final gesture of good will toward his fellow members, which includes all men of the parish as well as protestant men married to Catholic's, prepared a first class banquet with hot rolls, yet!

With all appetites satisfied, the evening was devoted to the election of officers for the coming months and with this finished, the party continued with good fellowship until before midnight. We mention this to substantiate the stories the boys had to give their wives when they returned home.

Officers elected for the next year include John H. Peterson, Pres.; Arnold Mauren, Vice-Pres.; in charge of Holy Name activities; Ernest Hoesli, VP in charge of Work & Play activities; Liwyn Doremire, VP in charge of Ubers; Horace Failing VP in charge of Public Relations and LeRoy Christian, Sec'y-Treas.

The new slate got off to a busy start, discussing first the possibility of a change from the Monday meeting night to accommodate more members. In addition the transfer of Father John Breitenstein, pastor, prompted the Holy Name committee to stimulate parishioners toward taking Holy Communion Sunday for the intention of the popular Fr. Breitenstein. The Work & Play group got off quickly too with the promotion of a stag party Tuesday evening at John Peterson's home in honor of the departing pastor.

Ever Since Runnymede

The Hoover Commission has recommended extensive changes in the federal government's budgeting and accounting functions.

This is not a repeat not—a statistical problem. Herbert Hoover himself has said: "Within a more effective budgeting and accounting system lies the restoration of the federal control of the national purse to the Congress, which has in great degree been lost. Ever since Runnymede, the control of the purse by the legislative body has been a foundation stone in liberty itself."

abor Under Communism

This item appeared in National Review for May 2: "The official organ of the Typographers Union has named the following picture of conditions in the Chinese Peoples Republic from stories in the Chinese communist press itself: '1. In some plants workers are forced to labor 24 to 32 consecutive hours. 2. At a public meeting Communist Party representatives laud a commendable spirit of certain workers who stayed the job two days and nights. 3. Workers on special emergency jobs toil five days and five nights in succession. 4. Workers are recalled from sick leave and ordered to produce on a 32-hour shift.' Overtime in the Chinese Peoples Republic is usually recorded as advance work or as a 'contribution' to the State. What revolution of the proletariat that one has turned out to be."

Fallon, Nev., Standard: "The truth is that the right of free speech, free assembly, and free press. Where the right to work does not exist, there is no real freedom."

Terre Haute, Ind., Tribune Star: "The great tradition on which free representative government is based is free private enterprise. Government in business."

The ferry trip to the island was a new experience for most of the girls. They had an excellent view of the construction being done on the new bridge. Upon arriving at the island the first concern was dinner, followed by a visit to the Fort. The carriage trip around the island was a highlight of the trip. ## Cole Circus To Show In Grayling On Thursday, July 5th

Mr. Floyd Hill, general agent of the George W. Cole 3 Ring Wild Animal Circus, was in Grayling yesterday to complete arrangements for the circus to show here on Thursday, July 5th under the auspices of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling.

The Cole name is one of the oldest and most honored in the circus business, and Mr. Hill reported in a visit to the Avalanche office that the Cole show this year is right about the time of the most elaborate features and equipment that it has ever carried.

Certainly the most unusual feature of the circus will be the presentation of a live jungle-bred African Rhinoceros, an animal noted throughout the world for its size, strength, running speed and extreme viciousness. In addition to the rhinoceros and a herd of periwinkles, the Cole Circus boasts a menagerie which includes lions, leopards, bears, apes, white deer, camels, a giant chimpanzee, and numerous other jungle animals.

To provide all the elements of a thrill-filled and action-packed three-ring circus performance demands an array of top-notch acrobats, trapeze performers, daredevils and clowns. The Cole Circus is featuring the Rawls family of teen-age gymnasts, widely known for their speed and their reckless daring; Charley Rex, balancing also increased last year, the postcard surveys showed. About 17.5 percent of all firearm hunters based a buck during the 1955 season. In 1954, only about 14 percent of the firearm hunters killed a deer.

youth, beauty,
Chevrolet,
action!

The new Bel Air Convertible—one of 20 sassy-styled new Chevrolets.

Want to take the wheel of one of America's few great road cars? Want to send pleasant little tingles up and down your spine? Then hustle on in and try out a new Chevrolet V8!

Now showing—the happiest "double feature" of the year! One part is bold, new Motoramic styling. The other is record-breaking V8 action. Hollywood has a heap of words that describe it: colossal, stupendous, magnificent. We'll settle for just the name—Chevrolet.

Because once you've driven this sweet-handling showboat, the adjectives will take care of themselves. Horsepower that ranges up to 225 makes hills flatter and saves precious seconds for safer passing. And the way this Chevrolet wheels around tight turns would gladden the heart of a dyed-in-the-wool sports car fan.

Stop in sometime soon and highway-test this new Chevrolet.

Bear Lake News

By M. D., the Roving Reporter

Summer is here at last and we wondered why such a long cold spring. Could this be the reason, we might be going back into the ice age. Because a man used to come home and ask his wife "what's cooking" and now he comes home and asks "what's thawing".

Our gas man Ernie Turner is back after the sad trip of burying his mother. Everyone around Bear Lake extends their sympathy to Sarah and Ernie.

Jean Newman's parents, the Hennleys from Pontiac are spending a few days with them.
 Del and Sox Hendricks took a quick trip down to Kalamazoo to see her boy graduate.

More new people buying a cabin on Bear Lake are Mr. and Mrs.
 Max Searles of Kalamazoo.
 Maggie Hutchings, stopped in with her brand new husband.
 Congratulations folks!

Don't forget the free show out here every Thursday night.
 Another new place going up in a hurry on the ski road belonging to the Sheppards from Pt. Huron.
 Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walters and son and friend are staying in the Ray-cabin over the weekend.

 ner of Auburn, Ind., are guests at the Newenfelt Hotel at Lewiston

We have a pair of barn swallows building a nest under the eaves of our cabin. These graceful little creatures have been working from early morn until late evening in the construction of their nest which is built of pellets of mud and cemented together with their saliva. We have watched them for the past week as they made their many trips to and from the river gathering the material. With their continuous twitter they are pleasant little fellows to have around.

 When we think of the love and labor that has gone into the construction of their tiny bowl shaped home we wonder how thoughtless human hands can so quickly destroy what it has taken so long to build.
 Mr. and Mrs. Don Percha and children, Debbie and Tommie, of Detroit were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Percha's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herrick.
 Mr. and Mrs. George Olney entertained Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herrick and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Buehler in their lodge on the North Branch Saturday evening.

Year after year... Blue Sunoco
 First with Auto Engineers

Again and again surveys show:

Blue Sunoco
 used by more auto engineers
 than all other premiums combined

The only gasoline that meets new higher premium octane standards and sells at regular gas price

We recently invited a large group of auto engineers to try New Blue Sunoco, boosted in octane, in their own cars and give their reactions. The survey results, compiled by an independent firm of certified public accountants, make Blue Sunoco the favorite.

43% already are users of Blue Sunoco
 Of the 1,166 engineers who reported on '56 Blue Sunoco, 43% told us they were already users of our gasoline.
 This was a far greater number than reported using all other premium gasolines combined—perhaps the greatest testimonial any gasoline ever had!

Blue Sunoco is recommended for the newest high-compression cars when owners' manuals specify a premium gasoline.

Premium octane at regular gas price
 Blue Sunoco is premium in every way, sells at regular gas price, gives many more miles per dollar. Follow the lead of auto engineers. Make your own 10-gallon test today.

COMPARISON CHART
This is what automotive engineers reported after comparing New '56 Blue Sunoco with premium-priced gasolines in their own cars
93%	say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for overall performance	91%	say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for power and pick-up
85%	say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for anti- knock performance	86%	say Blue Sunoco matches or excels premium-priced brands for miles per gallon
